SON, DRIVER OF MACHINE

Accident And Fatality Occurred On the Monongahela-Bentleyville Highway At Bridge No. 2, Near the Old Stone House, About 12:30 P. M. Yesterday

Mrs. Annie Stranesky, aged 50, of Ontario Mine, near Cokeburg, was killed instantly in an automobile accident on the Monongahela Bentleyville highway at Bridge No. 2, near the Old Stone House, about 12:30 o'clock yesterday.

The driver of the automobile which was being driven by her son, when it was forced from the road and brought to a sudden halt, Mrs. Stranesky's head struck a large limestone and her skull terribly crushed. She was dead before anyone could reach her side.

The Stranesky car was rounding a curve approaching the No. 2 bridge as another machine approached from the opposite direction. To prevent hitting the machine young Stranesky swerved his car from the smooth roadway to the rough surface alongside it, where he brought it to a sudden halt.

Mrs. Stranesky was riding alone in the rear seat. Jolted about, she was precipitated from the car when it was brought to a halt so suddenly.

Members of the Stranesky family, Mrs. Stranesky, the son, and a daughter were enroute to Monongahela to visit a son of Mrs. Stranesky, of 533 East Main street, when the accident occurred.

The driver of the other car did not halt and the license number of the machine was not secured.

Getting Ready For Busy Week In Boys' Behalf

Next week promises to be a busy one for the boys of Charleoi, North Charleoi and Speers. The Boys' Week celebration as announced a short time ago is fast being whipped into shape and if the plans are carried out successfully there is not a boy in Charleoi or the other towns that will not remember the week for a long time to come.

Next Sunday is Mother's day as well and this will give both the mothers and their boys the chance to have full sway in the churches. Each minister is arranging his own program and this will be announced later. On Monday something of special interest will be prepared for the boys in the schools and on Tuesday, the boys will be taken on trips through the various industries and business houses of the town. Wednesday, the boys will be entertained in various ways as well as having a number of athletic contests. Thursday is Loyalty day and will be one of the biggest days of the week. Friday "Boy's Day at Home" will be a busy one and on Saturday the boys will have a day out of doors, and Scoutmaster H. S. Hall says he will have something that will make the day a busy one.

ARREST TWO ON SUSPICION

Charleoi police arrested two men, a white man and a colored man, Saturday night, on a southbound street car; the time was about 6 o'clock. The white man was afterwards released, as nothing of an incriminating nature could be found on his person, but the colored man, who gave his name to us this morning as Grover Williams, and aged 32, is being held as a suspicious character. The men were arrested on suspicion of being connected with the robbery of a woman of $195 and tying her to a chair at Monongahela, as related in the Mail.

Williams said this morning that he and the white man, in whose company he was when the two were arrested, were employed in the Allenport mill, and that he was working at the time of the robbery of the woman at Monongahela. That he knew nothing of the robbery. He said that the reason the police were holding him, was on account of his having a revolver in his possession; the white man was unarmed.

Two autoists posted forfeits for violation of the parking ordinance, and one drunk was arrested. All will have hearings before Burgess J. Bryant Tussing tonight.

NOTICE.

The party who stole the automobile and tricycle from the premises at 322 Washington avenue is known, and to avoid prosecution, must return the same at once. Failure to do so, prosecution will follow. H. Porter, Jeweler. 28211*

VALLEY CHAPTER OF ORDER OF DEMOLAY

Next Wednesday evening in Charleoi, there will be instituted Monongahela Valley Chapter of the Order of DeMolay for boys. This order, which is fostered and cared for by McKean Commandery, No. 80, Knights Templar, of Charleoi, is composed of young men between the ages of sixteen and twenty-one years, who conduct all the work of the Chapter, confer the degrees, transact the business, and have full and entire charge of the entire movement.

The Order of DeMolay was organized in 1919 in the West and now numbers over 150,000 boys all over the United States. Since a member automatically loses his membership when he attains his majority, there must be a constant stream of boys aged sixteen, flowing into the order to keep it growing. The Chapter to be instituted at Charleoi will have a charter membership of one hundred and fifty boys, at least 35 of whom will come from Charleoi. The purpose of the order is to make better boys, better men, and thus better citizens.

Wednesday evening, at 6:45 sharp, Standard time, the charter members of the Monongahela Valley Chapter, Order DeMolay, escorted by Knights Templar to the number of two hundred and fifty swords, in full uniform, will parade over the streets of Charleoi from Masonic temple to Crest Avenue High School building, where the institution will take place, the work being done by a DeMolay degree team from one of the local chapters.

Remains Discovered Near Webster Are Identified as Those of Jeremiah Franklin Wakefield, a World War Veteran

MISSING FOR SEVEN WEEKS

Wakefield of North Charleoi—Boys Notice the Body And Called to a Number of Miners Who Brought Body to Shore

The body of a man found floating in the Monongahela river at the Elba mine, near Webster, about 10 o'clock Saturday morning, was identified as that of Jeremiah Franklin Wakefield, aged 30, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Wakefield of North Charleoi. Jeremiah Franklin Wakefield had been missing from his home for seven weeks.

Boys playing along the banks of the river noticed the body, and called to miners, who brought the remains to the shore. Undertaker Rabe, of Donora was notified, and removed the body to his morgue. Mr. Rabe communicated with the Charleoi police and learned that a man of Wakefield's description had been missing for some time. Identification followed, and the body was removed to the morgue of L. B. Frye here.

Melancholy over ill health, he having been gassed in the World War, it is thought that Wakefield committed suicide. Since the day of his disappearance, the police have been active in searching for the man, unsuccessfully.

There survive his parents, two sisters, Miss Pearl Wakefield, at home, and Mrs. Stella Clayton of Pittsburgh; two brothers, Lindsay Wakefield, Fallowfield avenue, this place, and Ira Wakefield, at home.

POLE ATTEND OPENING OF A SALES GARAGE

There were many models of the Jordan car on display, and the Charleoi people returned with many complimentary remarks about the garage and its successful outlook.

Pittsburgh Chapters. Two brass bands will form a feature of the parade. All Sir Knights in this vicinity are expected to be in attendance.

Seven cardinal teachings mark the work of the Order: Love of parents, reverence, patriotism, purity, courtesy, comradeship and fidelity. Surely these teachings are valuable to a boy, in those formative years of his life, from sixteen to twenty-one. It is the greatest father and son movement in the world. When a boy finishes the Boy Scout work, he is ready for the more serious duties of membership in the Order of DeMolay.

Five days in this year are especially celebrated by the members of this order:

DeMolay day of comfort, January 8.

Devotional day, Sunday nearest March 18.

Patriots' day, May 1.

Educational day, second regular meeting in September.

Parents' day, Sunday preceding November 21.

Chapter will be all that section between McKeesport and Brownsville and reaching from the Youngstown river to the West Virginia border, so that a very large membership undoubtedly be enjoyed by the Monongahela Valley Chapter. Our officers should be ready to do so.

INDUSTRIALISM'S HERITAGE
 As yet we hardly realize the vast change that has been wrought by the development of modern industrialism, a change not only dictating the employment of great masses of men, but also dictating the character of the life of the masses of men. Two years ago the British government made arrangements to employ $15,000,000 annually to assist British emigrants to settle in Australia, New Zealand and Canada these dominions at the same time making provision for the reception of the new settlers. It was confidently expected that 50,000 assisted emigrants would go to Australia annually, 17,000 to Canada and 10,000 to New Zealand. Up to last October only 23,479 of the assisted had left for Australia, 4,503 for New Zealand and 3,851 to Canada. In spite of the fact that Great Britain's unemployed amounted to nearly two million, and contrary to the precedent of the heavy emigration from Great Britain since the Napoleonic wars a hundred years ago. In explanation it is suggested that Great Britain has become so highly industrialized that her present population no longer supplies the old adventurous type of settler stock. The yeoman, the farmer and the farm laborer of initiative have almost disappeared; and the mill hand and the factory operatives who have taken their place know instinctively that they are unfitted to wrestle with frontier life. Has not a similar change been going on in America in consequence of the development and ever-extending influence of industrialism? Surely something of the sort is indicated in the news that our farmers are moving to town at the rate of more than a million annually and by the Department of Agriculture's showing that "nearly a quarter" of the farms in the United States have been abandoned "in the last three years."

The most common and well known rattlesnakes are abundant in the East, from the White mountains in New Hampshire, and Lake Superior, to the borders of the dry plains. The diamond rattler is found mainly in the southern states along the coast from North Carolina to Texas, and a variety ranges westward to Lower California. Several other species occur in the Rocky mountain region and northern Mexico. The ground rattler is also found in southern states, and the black rattler is common in the Allegheny mountains.

WOMAN ATTACKS
TEACHER; FINED

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Robertson of East Main street, Monongahela, who attacked Miss Genevieve Wyeth of that city, a teacher in the Victory Hill school in Carroll township Friday afternoon when Mrs. Robertson administered a beating to the teacher and Robertson was alleged to have struck Miss Elizabeth Abbott, also a teacher at the same school, who was with Miss Wyeth when she was stopped in the street by Mrs. Robertson while on her way home, were given a hearing before Alderman A. N. Jenkins of Third ward on a charge of assault and battery Saturday morning at 11 o'clock. Mr. Robertson pleaded guilty to the charge and was fined $20 and costs. Mr. Robertson was also found guilty but members of the board of directors of the Carroll township schools were present and after a consultation among themselves were not disposed to prosecute the man and he was permitted to go on payment of the fine and costs. The family has just recently come to this country from Scotland and were not familiar with regulations in public schools. When Miss Wyeth, of whose name a daughter of the Robertson family is a member, sent a note to the parents requesting them to furnish a satisfactory excuse for the continual tardiness of their child, the parents became enraged and the attack on Miss Wyeth resulted. The father is a miner with four children and it was for this reason that the school authorities were disposed to be lenient. Alderman Jenkins after giving Mr. and Mrs. Robertson a severe reprimand, dismissed them on payment of costs.

The Pittsburgh Pirates dropped two games at Cincinnati yesterday much to the chagrin and disappointment of fandom in Pittsburgh and this section. After winning the concluding contest of the series in Chicago with the Cubs, and then wallowing the St. Louis Cardinals four straight, it was thought the Pirates had hit their stride and were moving pennantward. But in Redland yesterday they were up against Cincinnati's reputed crack pitching corps, and succumbed in both games, being shut out in the first game and losing the second contest by a score of 5-4. The Pirates are not scheduled for today, the only national league games being New York at Philadelphia, and Boston at Brooklyn.
